OMNIBUS AD... ENGIANO

II

This image shows a page from an old manuscript or notebook. The paper is aged and yellowed. It features horizontal ruling lines spaced evenly down the page. On the left side, there is a vertical strip of text, likely from the adjacent page, which reads "OMNIBUS AD... ENGIANO". Below this, the Roman numeral "II" is visible. The page itself is mostly blank, with a small, dark, circular hole or ink blot near the bottom right corner. The binding of the book is visible on the far left edge.
